The Manse,
17th August 1971

Dear Friends,

To go on holiday to Hartlepools may not count in some people's eyes as the most imaginative of experiences. But to my family, the last seven days have within them an experience of what we say can happen but never will. Staying with the Revd. Robert Hamilton (who visited our pastorate 12 months ago), we shared an extremely emotional and heart-breaking occasion - the papers would use the word 'traumatic'. Last Saturday, a fire started in Durham Street Congregational Church reducing parts of the church buildings to charred remains. Fire and water damage will amount into thousands of pounds. It was more like a page out of the book of Ulster than a quiet Durham city street at holiday time.

As an outsider, one could sense the immediate heartbreak of the situation. Any church has great memories, an important history to relate, and a wealth of experience. To watch the fire consume it was to watch it consume the stuff of people's lives. Bystanders found it hard to hold back the tears as they observed it helplessly.

On the Sunday following, the congregation met for worship in the local Baptist church. There was a deep hush of despair, a consciousness of sharing. With this came an earnestness for the church to see itself as a group of committed people for whom buildings have an importance, but not the final priority. The test was upon them. The test was also there for the other churches in the vicinity.

What about us? We share the experience of fellow Congregationalists - their church is part of ours and vice versa. It may be hard for us to imagine what they are going through. On the other hands, it may make us grateful that we have got churches that are buildings, even if we do have to continually pay for their upkeep. The Church building is the hub of the wheel - the operational headquarters for Christian action. All of us know that buildings without people are just empty shrines. They are bones without the life. The life of the church is what is in you and I. We are the living reminders that Christ is King - or at least we should be living reminders.

Who knows - the fire at Hartlepools may bring new priorities and life to the church there. We haven't got a fire, nor do we want one! But we still need more urgent churchmanship, more faithful discipleship, and increased faith. Only God can give us that faith in Christ. If our faith is being tested, now is the time to affirm what we believe and be glad to be called by the name 'Christian'

Yours sincerely,

Glyn Jenkins

MICHAELMAS MARKET - Holiday Gift Stall

We hope that you have all got your holiday gifts! If not, you'd better book yourself another holiday! Please hand these gifts to Mr. Alec Rae on Harvest Sunday or as soon as possible afterwards. Please attach a note with the price of the gift and where it has come from.

TELEPHONE SAMARITANS was the subject of a talk given by a representative of the Rochdale Branch, to the Women's Guild at the August meeting. An interesting account of the types of problems which face their clients and the way in which they help, made us realise what a vital service they give to the community.

HARVEST 1971.....19th September

We would like everyone to co-operate to make this year's harvest services very special for St. Stephen's. Harvest gifts will be received at the morning service. The hope is that each member of the family will bring something to harvest. Last year we broke with the traditional harvest and showed that this festival can portray all the gifts which God has given us. We hope that people will use their imagination this year, so that we can show in visual form just what we owe to the God who created us.

The gifts of fruit, flowers, vegetables, tinned foods, bread, etc., will be given out at the close of the evening service to the elderly and sick people of the community. Names and addresses of such people should be handed to the minister or care area deacons. We hope also that people will bring the raw materials of their work.

The form of the morning service will be slightly different in that the children and young people will go directly into groups at 11.0 am. We will close with an act of family worship in which we share what we have brought, and try to express in music and words the thanksgiving of harvest.

If you are unable to come to morning worship and wish to give something for the harvest display, then please give your gifts to your care deacon prior to the morning service.

ANNIVERSARY 1971.....3rd October

Please keep this date free and try to support the services on this date. The services will be conducted by the Revd. Brian Rawling of Cleveleys and will include Holy Communion at 8.30 am Family Worship at 11.0 am., and an Evening Thanksgiving service at 6.0 pm. The Morning Pageant will be called "OUR CHURCH - CALLED AND SENT". Please make these services as widely known as possible.

THE CARE SCHEME:

Points of Interest:

Do you remember Marie Elaine Rand? She was the little spastic girl helped by the £1000 appeal in the new year. Already the treatment is having a marked effect and Marie is enjoying a much fuller life. One or two of the ladies from St. Stephen's are helping by going to help exercise Marie. If you are able to help then please get in touch with the minister.

Cars for the Blind

We have provisionally accepted responsibility through the care scheme for taking two blind people to the Ronald Gorton Centre twice a month. Each week an evening is arranged for the blind at the centre, but there is difficulty in finding transport. Two blind people from Milnrow and Newhey would like help to go. Why not give up a Thursday evening to help? The timetable involves picking them up from their homes at about 6.45 pm., and taking them down to Rochdale, and bringing them back at about 9.0 pm. If you want you can stay down at the centre - even enjoy snooker and coloured television! Many hands make light work. Please let Mr. Roberts know if you can help.

Help the aged:

A special appeal is being held for 'Help the Aged' in Milnrow in the last week of September. The Parish Church school will be open for the reception of blankets and clothing and donations. Our part in the appeal will include the distribution of leaflets. We would like help from anyone available, expecially young people and children.

E.P.C:

From volunteers from the Every Person Canvass a list of visitors has been drawn up for the sick and elderly. Also a suggested list of Care Scheme Slides evenings for the forthcoming winter. Please check the notice board.

50 families. They are financed largely by a grant from Rochdale Corporation and the bulk of their work is within the borough boundary but some of their families are located in the districts. Additional support comes from the Friends Of Rochdale F.S.U. membership of which is 25p per year.

BEYOND THE CHURCH WALLS (3). THE FAMILY SERVICE UNIT

A family is a group of people who get on one anothers nerves. There are, of course, politer and pleasanter definitions but this one does contain an awful truth. The fact is that though our loved ones might be the basis of our happiness they are, paradoxically, a source of anxiety and irritation. It is our spouses, parents and off-springs who most frequently bring us near to screaming pitch and make mother, who has least escape from family pressures - wonder just how much more she can stand.

The more placid among us manage to muddle through lifes little crises but an increasing number do come to breaking point. It may be because they are more highly strung or physically run down. It may be because they lack common sense or intelligence. It may be because they never learned to cope with crises or simply that they really are having a terrible time. Whatever the reason the outcome may be despair and apathy affecting not just individuals but the whole family.

The Family Service Unit exists to help such families back onto their feet. Other agencies like the Childrens Department or Health Visitors are only concerned with certain aspects of the families' problems so they may refer certain cases to F.S.U. The Unit usually makes contact through the mother who is the key to the family situation. They have to overcome her suspicion and win her confidence not simply by helping out with children's clothes but by trying to cheer mum up. This might involve giving her a hair-do, helping her work out the weekly budget or taking the kids off her hands for a while. (Trips to the lake and holidays for a few). This really is a job for skilled social workers rather than well meaning do-gooders for the idea is not just to give the mother a friend to lean on but to encourage her to face up to her predicament in a sensible way so that eventually she will be able to cope alone.

The Unit is based on 19 St. Albans St., Rochdale and consists of 3 social workers with a caseload of 40 --

NEWS FROM SALEM, S.INDIA.....extract from a letter received from Revd. D.P. Collins, the missionary on deputation to Rochdale last February.

"I am in charge of a rural pastorate consisting of congregations at distances of 10-20 miles from Salem. We have some 8 or 9 lay preachers mostly living in Salem, who help me by taking services.....

In one village there has been quite a revival recently. Every Saturday evening the whole congregation have been gathering in the church for a preparation class for full church membership - many have been hitherto only loosely connected with the church..... At the last meeting I had been talking about the need for members to take responsibility for their own affairs and pointed out that I had to bring my own pressure lamp to the meeting because their's was out of order! My words bore fruit because the next day one of the members said he would donate Rs100/- for electrifying the church - half the total cost. Others too have come forward and we hope to get the work done in the next few weeks.

There is a great deal of indignation in India about the huge burdens the country has to bear for the maintentance of 7 million refugees from E. Pakistan, the result of the inhuman policies of Yayha Khan's regeme. India is having to bear more than half the cost, despite a lot of 'sympathy' expressed by other nations.

This is a land where strange things happen. The other day 200 donkeys were found making their way unattended across the border into Kerala in a lonly spot. It was found by the police that they were all loaded with sacks of rice being smuggled across the border because prices are much higher there. The owners could not be found so they 'arrested' the donkeys.
